EHPSA is a four-year programme (2014–2018), funded by UK aid from the UK Department for International Development (DFID) with additional funding from Sweden and Norway. The programme is managed by Mott MacDonald.

EHPSA supports more effective and efficient HIV prevention efforts for adolescents, prisoners and LGBTI in eastern and southern Africa. EHPSA supports research that generates evidence of what works and why, as well as strategies to translate that evidence into action. EHPSA aims to catalyse new thinking around the implementation of combination HIV prevention, treatment as prevention, and appropriate sexual and reproductive health packages for these populations across the region.
