

EHP SA CRITICAL REVIEWS

Cross-cutting topics

Two crosscutting topics will analyse and track regional trends in country prioritisation of HIV prevention for vulnerable and key populations. These are trends in:

- Resource allocation; and
- National research priorities

A third review will explore the role and contribution of civil society in advocating for rights-based policy and programming for these groups.

Adolescents

Two discussion papers aim to contribute to and broaden regional debates on issues affecting policy and programming on HIV prevention for adolescents in the region. These are:

- The future of social and behaviour change communication (SBCC) in an era of combination prevention
- The impact and value of a more nuanced and disaggregated definition of 'adolescents' for HIV prevention programming

LGBTI

Two reviews designed to enhance the regional effectiveness of HIV prevention policies for MSM and LGBTI communities in the region. These are:

- A regional situation analysis and review of LGBTI-friendly sexual health services
- Availability of appropriate sexual health services: trend analysis

Prisoners

Two reviews are designed to enhance the regional debate on policy, funding and services for prisoners and incarcerated populations in the region. These are:

- A review of HIV prevention and sexual health services for prisoners
- The status quo of routine data collection in prisons settings (TB and HIV): trend analysis
